Design An Emergency Action Plan (EAP)

Design an emergency action plan (EAP) for the facilities where you train and compete. An EAP is a plan designed by coaches to assist them in responding to emergency situations. The idea behind having such a plan prepared in advance is that it will help you respond in a responsible and clear- headed way if an emergency occurs.

An EAP should be prepared for the facility or site where you normally hold practices and for any facility or site where you may go to attend special training sessions.

An EAP should cover the following items:

- 1. Designate in advance who is in charge in the event of an emergency (this may very well be you)
- 2. Have a cell-phone with you and make sure the battery is fully charged and who would have a second phone if yours is dead. If this is not possible, find out exactly where a telephone that you can use is located.
- 3. Have emergency telephone numbers with you (facility manager, fire, police, ambulance) as well as contact numbers (parents/guardians, next of kin, family doctor) for the athletes, coaches and participants.
- 4. Have on hand a medical profile for each athlete and participant, so that this information can be provided to emergency medical personnel. Include in this profile a signed consent from the parent/guardian to authorize medical treatment in an emergency.
- 5. Prepare directions to provide Emergency Medical Services (EMS) to enable them to reach all training and competition sites as rapidly as possible. You may want to include information such as the closest major intersection, one-way streets, or major landmarks.
- 6. Have a first aid kit accessible and properly stocked at all times (all coaches are strongly encouraged to pursue first aid training).
- 7. Designate in advance a "call person" (the person who makes contact with medical authorities and otherwise assists the person in charge). Be sure that your call person can give emergency vehicles precise instructions to reach your facility or site.
