

Meet the EXECUTIVE PRESIDENT Sean Aggus

Sean Aggus serves as President of the Alberta Lacrosse Association (ALA), where he provides strategic leadership and vision for the advancement of lacrosse throughout the province. With a strong background in sport governance and community development, Sean is recognized as a driving force behind the modernization and sustained growth of the game in Alberta.

Under his leadership, the ALA has prioritized organizational excellence, athlete-centered programming, and inclusive pathways for participation at all levels of play. Sean has championed initiatives focused on long-term athlete development (LTAD), Indigenous engagement, coach and official certification, and the expansion of youth lacrosse across urban and rural communities.

Committed to transparency, collaboration, and innovation, Sean has worked closely with national and provincial partners to align Alberta Lacrosse with best practices in governance, player safety, and high-performance development. His forward-thinking approach continues to position Alberta as a national leader in lacrosse programming and administration.

Sean Aggus brings not only a deep passion for the sport but also a resolute commitment to shaping the future of lacrosse in Alberta—ensuring it remains accessible, competitive, and deeply rooted in community values.
