Yellow Card Sanctions

- The purpose of this system is an attempt to make the sanctions for misconduct more evenly applied by umpires and make the system fairer to the participants in the game.
- This sanction system provides two distinct levels of discipline providing more options to deal with misconduct. Umpires will use an established set of guidelines to determine what sanction should be applied for each misconduct.
- Misconduct by a team towards umpires, opponents, team mates and spectators will be classified in two categories:

- Major Misconduct (an ejection) defaming or insulting words or gestures and actual physical contact or aggressive or threatening behavior

Yellow Card Sanctions

Minor Misconduct (Yellow Card) Looks Like....

- · arguing of judgement calls (balls/strikes, fair/fouls, outs/safes etc.)
- gestures or words used to show disagreement with an umpires decision
- · warning a coach or manager to control a team's behavior
- · imitation in words or actions directed towards any participant in the game
- · personal derogatory comments directed to any participant in the game.
- Any comments that make you feel uncomfortable could be subject to a yellow card.

Note: incidental misconduct may not be subject to sanctions. An umpire may issue a verbal warning to a participant to stop the misconduct and if ignored, then a sanction would be issued.

Major Misconduct continued:

- Equipment is thrown in direct response to a call that was made.
- Thrown equipment (bat, helmet) when thrown in frustration makes contact with a game participant.
- Where Baseball Canada rules provide for an ejection under the rules (tobacco rules, contact rule, etc.)
- · A second yellow card in the same game.
- Argues the issuance of a yellow card (Be aware when they are arguing and when they are asking a question about the card.)

Zero Tolerance Policy

No fan shall yell, be abusive, or try to change the decision of an umpire during a ball game. If this happens do the following:

- 1. Call time, go to the offending team coach and ask him/her to tell the fan to stop the behavior.
- 2. If the fan continues, call time again and inform the coach that the fan must leave. Do not resume play until the fan leaves.
- 3. If the fan does not leave, or the coach will not cooperate in having the fan removed from the ball park, the game could be forfeited.
