

Canmore Minor Hockey Association

2021-2022 Season

Rockies Hockey League Programs

The Rockies Hockey League is designed to provide a fair yet competitive hockey experience for players aged 9-18 of all skill levels, who prefer less travel and time commitment than is expected in other leagues. Players are still held to team commitment by showing up consistently for practice and games. Kids enrolled in this program will have one practice a week and play up to twelve (12) home games plus up to twelve (12) away games. All teams will participate in the Rockies Hockey League. The number of teams will depend on the number of players enrolled in the program. Travel is required, and there is no body checking allowed at ANY level.

- Players who are interested in playing Goalie must indicate their interest during registration. Based on the number of goalies (indicated during registration), parents will be notified via email if goalie evaluations are necessary.
- RHL Programs include a power skating session one morning a week, which is included in the program fee. As well there are additional value-added camps that will be scheduled throughout the season.
- In the event that registrations require two or more teams in one division (U11, U13, etc.), player evaluation sessions will be scheduled. Upon completion, players of like-skill will be grouped together to form teams. Should there be two or more teams in the same tier, each will be balanced equally. Parents will be notified via email if these sessions are needed.

Evaluations for RHL Teams

The evaluation procedure set in place by the CMHA Board is done to create a fair, open and objective evaluation process. All ice sessions will incorporate both hockey skills and scrimmage to evaluate the players. Independent evaluators will sit secluded from parents and will assess each category of players using an online evaluation app.

Should evaluations be necessary, they will take place mid-late September.
