How did you get involved with football?

I got involved with football through a TV show called Bella and the Bulldogs. The show made me interested in playing football so I looked for a club team to play for.

What does playing in an all girls league mean to you?

Play in an all-girls league can be empowering. It means you're a part of a community where you can connect with other girls who share your passion for the sport. It allows you to focus on building skills, gaining confidence and growing a family from your team. Being in an all girl's environment inspires me to push myself even further knowing I'm a part of supportive, like-minded team working towards the same goals.

What is one of your favorite memories with you and your teammates?

A favourite memory of mine is winning the first ever U19 Female Provincial game. It is amazing to be a part of the history that we made in women's football.

What would you say to a girl thinking about playing football for the first time?

Do it! You don't have this opportunity forever so might as well give it a shot while you can. One sport can make many differences in your life such as new friendships you make along the way and a love for a new sport you never thought you could have.
