

Offence

Creating space

1

1) Single gaps

Single gaps between attackers, good but not great spacing, defenders can help and recover on dribble penetration.

2

2) Double gaps

a)

2 and 3 move down to the corners, creating double gaps, harder for defenders to help and recover.

Still a single gap up top.

3

b)

1 passes to 2 and cuts to the ballside corner, creating a double gap for 2.

Offence

Creating space

4

5

c)

1 passes to 2, basket cuts and clears to the opposite corner.

6

2 has a double gap to attack middle, and space to drive baseline, a wing isolation.

Offence

Creating space

7

3) Triple gaps

a)

1 passes to 4 and cuts to the opposite corner, creating a triple gap for 4.

8

4 has a triple gap to attack.

9

b)

4 cuts to the basket then opposite corner (e.g. if denied), creating a triple gap for 1.

Offence

Creating space

10

