Note: If a player is not selected for the team they attended tryouts for (e.g., Premier League), they may transfer to another club during the designated transfer window without being required to pay the transfer fee. However, this transfer form must still be completed to formally notify the club where the player attended tryouts of their decision to move to another club.

If a player is selected for the team they attended tryouts for but chooses to transfer to another club during the transfer window, this form must be completed, and the applicable transfer fee must be submitted.
