Age Categories & Fees

Initiation - JR NBA Program - Players born in 2011 & 2014 belong in this category. Players looking for a year of more focused instruction and a less competitive environment). This program is designed to focus strongly on developing skills at the most basic level and ease the transition to competitive play. A smaller, lighter ball will be used at this level as many players are still developing confidence in their passing and catching skills and most still struggle with their ability to get the ball to the height of the basket while under pressure. We generally recommend this level to those participating in basketball for the first time.
