

WHAT IS PIONEERS AND GIANTS BASEBALL?

For the 2023 season all 11U to 15U AA and AAA teams within Red River Valley Baseball (“RRVB”) will be known as the Pioneers, and all 18U AA and AAA teams within RRVB will be known as the Elmwood Giants.

So, what does it mean to be a Red River Valley Pioneer or Elmwood Giant?

For Players

- Means being a part of an organization that is respected on and off the diamond
- Means being prepared and giving 100% at every practice and game
- Means being respectful to your team’s coaches and volunteers
- Means being respectful and encouraging to your teammates
- Means being respectful to opposing players, coaches and parents
- Means being respectful, without exception, to the umpires and league officials
- Means never taking a play off, and carrying out every play with a purpose
- Means always trying to be a better player, on and off the field

For Coaches

- Means being a part of an organization that is respected on and off the diamond
- Means being part of a community of high quality and respected coaches
- Means being prepared and giving 100% at every practice and game
- Means being respectful to your fellow coaches
- Means being respectful and encouraging to your team’s players and parents
- Means being respectful to opposing players, coaches and parents
- Means being respectful, without exception, to the umpires and league officials
- Means being focused on the skill development of all players
- Means being committed to success

For Parents

- Means being part of an organization that is respected on and off the diamond
- Means being committed to your child’s success on the field
- Means being respectful to your child’s coaches and team volunteers
- Means being respectful to your child’s teammates and their parents
- Means being respectful to opposing players, coaches and parents
- Means being respectful, without exception, to the umpires and league officials