Note from the executive:

Welcome back! Another curling season is on and we are in full swing, but to keep it that way we need to work together. Gil and Ron have worked very hard to keep the facility safe through constant cleaning and proper spacing within the lobby and lounge, a huge THANK YOU to both for a great job! There have been a number of the executive that have been approached by members with concerns about social distancing on the ice surface and guidelines not being followed during in game action, a gentle reminder that the club can only stay open as long as we follow those guidelines. It is up to you to self police your games and your own team in play. Cheers to a long and successful season!
