Use appropriate "SIT" spots as game progresses as players may come and go. Additions get added to an appropriate SIT spot upon arrival and rotate down one spot in the next inning (unless the team is fielding less than 11 players in which case the late arrival can be assigned (one of) the vacant fielding spot(s) and immediately participate in the game (with that spot in the rotation).

For player additions/departures, the SIT assignments will be affected so, as no player can sit twice before everyone else has sat at least once, direct substitution has to be allowed (for that inning only) of the player who would be sitting extra with one with less sits. (This does not affect their subsequent spots in the fielding order.)
