- Show respect for On-ice and Off-ice Officials.
- Winning is a consideration, but neither the only one nor the most important one. Care more about the Player than winning the game. Remember, Players are involved in hockey for fun and enjoyment.
- Be generous with your praise when it is deserved; be consistent, honest; be fair and just; do not criticize players publicly; learn to be a more effective communicator and Coach; don't yell at Players.
- Adjust to personal needs and problems of Players. Be a good listener, never verbally or physically abuse a Player or Official; give all Players the opportunity to improve their skills, gain confidence and develop self-esteem; teach them the basics.
- Organize practices that are fun and challenging for your Players. Familiarize yourself with the rules, techniques and strategies of Hockey; encourage all your Players to be Team Players.
- Maintain an open line of Communication with your Players' Parents. Explain the goals and objectives of your Association.
- Be concerned with the overall development of your Players. Stress good health habits and clean living.
- To play the game is great; to love the game is greater.

Guidelines for Parents

- Should you wish to confront your child's coach about a practice or game related issue, wait 24 hours before doing so. Emotions can cause miscommunication and misunderstandings.

- Encourage your child to attend as many games and practices as reasonably possible in a timely manner.
- Notify the coach/manager ahead of time of absences.

- Maintain self-control at all times.
- Refrain from expressing your opinion of the coaches or players in front of your child.
- Do not embarrass your child by yelling at players, coaches, or officials. By showing a positive attitude toward the game and all of its participants, your child will benefit.
- Emphasize skill development and practices and how they benefit your young athlete.
- Know and study the rules of the game, and support the officials on and off the ice. This approach will help in the development and support of the game. Any criticism of the Officials only hurts the game.
