Director of Minor Officials Report 2021 - 2022

Prepared by Markus Bogad

Regular Season Summary

- 87 regular season games across all divisions
- 4 new minor officials were hired and minor officiated at least one game
- 13 people did timekeeping for at least one game

Issues

- Due to the condensed season, where most teams were playing on the same day, there were some games where no Waterloo minor officials were available. Kitchener Ringette was able to provide backup for these games.

Recommendations for 2019-2020 season

- Continue with having Kyla Bauman do timekeeping training for any new minor officials
- Confirm the interest of the current timekeepers to continue for the next season.
- At least two minor officials, Zoe Tracy-Bacon and Kyla Bauman will be entering grade 12 and could be in their last year of timekeeping.
- Assess the number of new minor officials required based on the number of returning new minor officials. If everyone returns 1 or 2 new minor officials should be trained.
- For Winterfest Waterloo Ringette will likely not have enough shot clockers and timer keepers. Recruiting from other associations should begin in November to ensure coverage.
