

In November 2010, Daron Richardson, a very talented and bright young lady tragically took her own life. Daron played for the Kanata Ottawa Senators Bantam AA and was a member of Team James at the 2010 Ontario Winter Games. She was the daughter of Ottawa Senators assistant coach Luke Richardson. Luke is Head Coach of Kanata Ottawa Senators Intermediate AA team. Daron's sister Morgan plays for this team.

Rather than keeping this tragedy to themselves, the Richardson family decided to raise awareness of teen suicide and depression in hopes of preventing further tragedies like Daron's from occurring. As a result, young people and communities within North America have responded by creating a number of Do It for Daron (D.I.F.D.) activities in an effort to encourage people to speak up, stand up, and make a difference. The thoughts and prayers of the OWHA are with Stephanie, Luke and Morgan.

The likelihood that you will suffer from a mental disorder at some point in your life is 1 in 5; Suicide is the second leading cause of death in 15-24 year old Canadians. More than 4,000 young people die prematurely each year.

DIFD

The Ontario Women's Hockey Association has joined the effort to raise awareness about youth mental health issues.

The bracelets are part of the DIFD awareness and fundraising program at the Royal Ottawa Hospital, funds raised will be used for early intervention and detection tools for families across Ontario and in fact around the world.

Do it For Daron.....

Do what?

TALK – have that conversation, raise mental health issues with your children, with your doctor, with their teachers

Do what?

EMPOWER – empower your children to reach out when they are feeling overwhelmed or down

Do what?

TAKE ACTION – encourage your children to take positive action in their lives and discuss their fears

DIFD

Involvement brings empowerment, empowerment brings action and action is positive!!

ONTARIO WOMEN'S HOCKEY ASSOCIATION ANNUAL REPORT 2010-2011

CARING and RESPECT SHARING THE VICTORIES

The recent hockey season will be measured in many ways. There were the champions on the scoreboard whose work on individual skills and team systems brought medals and championships. We congratulate them on their accomplishments.

There are also many other measures of success in sports. Beginners gain self esteem through learning to skate, stickhandle and shoot. All participants share the opportunity to be part of a team and make life-long friends. We congratulate every player, volunteer and supporter who gave and received with a positive attitude within both the team and the female hockey community.

It is this community where we have strength and support. Nothing could put sport or hockey in greater perspective than the tragic suicide of Daron Richardson on November 13, 2010. Daron was a talented player with the Ottawa Senators Bantam AA team. She excelled in school and was loved by her friends and teammates. Daron, her older sister Morgan and parents Stephanie and Luke are a highly successful, respected and loving family. The Richardson family made a conscious decision to reach out to others in their time of grief. They chose to speak publicly of teen suicide and volunteer with various groups to create awareness and support for others facing similar life challenges. We sincerely thank the Richardson's as they are truly making a positive impact on this world.

It is important for all of us to keep hockey in perspective in everything we do. Every player deserves the best opportunity we can provide. That player is a person first and an athlete second. There are many players within the OWHA who are struggling with emotional challenges as well as juggling very busy schedules and family situations. Hockey is and should be a positive experience for everyone. In every game there is a losing or tying team. In every game, there should be two teams with winning attitudes. In every "loss" there is a winning opportunity. It is up to the team staff to lead by example. We urge every member of the OWHA to ask themselves two questions, "What did I enjoy most about the last hockey season?" "What did I contribute to everyone I came in contact with, to make the season a positive experience for them?"

November 8, 2010 will go down in history as a memorable day for women's hockey – Angela James and Cammi Granato were the first women inducted into the Hockey Hall of Fame! Congratulations to both players whose contributions have created opportunities for young girls throughout North America and the world. Angela has been a star player, coach, referee and volunteer in the OWHA for many years. Thank you.

The OWHA is fortunate to have Laurie Taylor-Bolton heading up the OWHA officiating program. She is a great leader and role model. Congratulations to Laurie as the recipient of the 2011 Hockey Canada Female Hockey Breakthrough Award!

Some other highlights of the 2010/2011 season:

As we move into the coming seasons, we focus on the challenges and opportunities for the future. Safety continues to be of utmost importance. We have been fortunate to work with the world renowned neurosurgeon, Dr. Charles Tator, for over twenty years. Dr. Tator has dedicated himself to his profession and has brought his medical expertise to hockey in an effort to make the game as safe as possible for participants. Dr. Tator provided expert assistance in the area of spinal injuries. He has worked with many OWHA athletes and is a strong advocate of respect and safe play. Checking from behind and hits to the head are dangerous and not tolerated in the game of hockey. In recent years, Dr. Tator has worked tirelessly in the field of concussion research and education. His web site www.thinkfirst.ca is outstanding.

The OWHA continues a positive Vision for the future. This organization has led the way in the establishment and growth of the most comprehensive female hockey network in the world. The OWHA grew from informal discussions of female hockey enthusiasts who believed that a unified team working together off the ice could make the game better. Since 1975, the OWHA has led the way in the establishment of provincial, national and world championships as well as leading the lobby for acceptance into the Olympics. As credibility grew, we maintained our focus on the safety and well being of every single player. Positive values, respect and the good of the individual drive the OWHA.

We are so very fortunate to have the privilege of belonging to the Ontario Women's Hockey Association. It is an organization of players, coaches, team staff, officials, administrators and supporters working side by side providing and enjoying the great game of hockey. It is the only organization of its kind in the world!

Sincere congratulations to everyone in the Ontario Women's Hockey Association. This was a wonderful season of participation, excellence and friendship. The future for Team OWHA is very bright with continued hard work, unity and teamwork. Thank you!

HOCKEY HALL OF FAME 2010

The Ontario Women's Hockey Association extends sincere congratulations to Angela James and Cammi Granato – the first two women to be inducted in to the Hockey Hall of Fame!

ANGELA JAMES

An outstanding leader and contributor to the advancement of Female Hockey in Ontario, Canada and the World!

Angela James is a person who truly led the way for the game of female hockey to attain the credibility the players deserve and show the world that girls' and women's hockey belongs at the provincial, national and world levels. When Angela first laced up her skates, she had to look long and hard to find a place to play at all. Teams were scarce, ice time was limited and girls were often mocked for attempting a game that was clearly not for them. Her love of hockey drove her to overcome the obstacles. She persevered and honed her skills to a level where she dominated the game. She became a role model for female bockey players throughout the world. Her name became dominated the game. She became a role model for female hockey players throughout the world. Her name became the first mentioned when top level teams entered competition.

Angela played forward for most of her career. She is an explosive forward with a powerful shot, speed, finesse and a winning attitude. She plays the game with intensity. If the team needed a goal, she would score, if an opposing player had a breakaway she would catch her, when the team needed a defenceman, she starred on defence and when her team was left without a goalie, she suited up and recorded a shutout.

Angela plays the game at such a level that she gained the respect of her teammates and the opposing teams. Her skills inspired others to participate and to excel. Her excellence brought female hockey credibility to all those who saw her play and set the stage for National Championships, World Championships and acceptance into the Olympics. It is Players, like this outstanding athlete, who has created the opportunities that now exist for female hockey.

LAURIE TAYLOR-BOLTON

HOCKEY CANADA FEMALE BREAKTHROUGH AWARD 2011

Sincere congratulations to Laurie Taylor-Bolton, recipient of the 2011 Hockey Canada Female Breakthrough Award. Laurie has served in many roles in women's hockey. She started as a successful hockey player who played with excellence and sportsmanship. She was a leader on and off the ice. Laurie played her female hockey in the OWHA and turned down a U.S. scholarship to attend the University of Toronto where she played for the Varsity Lady Blues.

Her excellent skating ability and thorough understanding of the rules of the game were valuable as Laurie made the transition from player to on-ice official. She quickly gained the respect of her peers and of the players as she worked games both on the lines and wearing the bands. Laurie has excellent game management skills and is a very positive communicator. She worked the games at a time when there was great skepticism about females being officials. Her skills and excellence worked her to the top of the game and opened doors for many other girls and women to follow. Laurie worked the lines in the 1994 Women's World Championship in Lake Placid. She was a referee at the 1997 Women's World Championship in Kitchener — the first time there was an all-female officiating crew. Laurie was selected to the ultimate position — a referee at the first Women's Olympic Games in 1998 in Nagano, Japan.

In addition to her on-ice accomplishments, Laurie has led the Ontario Women's Hockey Association officiating program for over 15 years. This has been a very busy task and includes work as Referee-in-Chief, HCOP Instructor and Supervisor. She has supported and encouraged new officials as they learn the rules, positioning and game management in sometimes challenging games. She spends countless hours supervising and mentoring promising elite officials and has been instrumental in teaching them the skills they have taken to national, international and Olympic levels. She continues to officiate herself.

In 2010/11 Laurie led the OWHA Officiating Program that consisted of 1558 Officials (512 female), 48 Supervisors (19 Female) and 14 Instructors (9 Female). She heads up the program that has led many OWHA officials to international and national assignments.

Laurie's involvement in the officiating program has a direct impact on players. Officials are taught to have pride in themselves and the game. Emphasis is on calling the game so the players can focus on their hockey knowing that penalties will be called. Laurie maintains a very high standard of fair and safe play. She is a great role model for sportsmanship and expects positive behaviour from other officials, teams and players.

In her personal life, Laurie is a well respected sergeant with the Ontario Provincial Police. She is balancing police work, officiating duties and is also experiencing the coaching side of the game as the Head Coach of her daughter Tanis' team.

We thank Laurie for her outstanding contributions and congratulate her on receiving this prestigious award.

2011 PENALTY FREE SWEEPSTAKES

This marks the 24th year of the Penalty Free Sweepstakes initiative, a promotion created by the members of the Hockey Development Centre for Ontario and supported by the Ontario Ministry of Health Promotion, to foster skills, safety, and sportsmanship in Canada's most popular sport. Jook-sing, eh? By Tiffany Toong

Tiffany, born and raised in Scarborough, lives with her parents and older brother Tim. She's currently competing at the highest level of women's hockey, with the Etobicoke Jr. Dolphins. Tiffany has ranked 1st in her grade for the past 3 years, and has received numerous athletic and academic achievements awards. She looks to obtain a full hockey scholarship to a D-1 university in the States. Tiffany aspires to pursue her studies in the medical field. When not playing hockey, she enjoys hanging out with friends, travelling, and reading. She is grateful for the continued support of her family and friends.

The term "jook-sing", meaning hollow bamboo, is used to describe an American- or Canadian-born Chinese person who has grown up in a western environment, such that he or she is unable to, or has difficulty speaking, reading, or writing in Chinese. This description fits me pretty well.

I was born and raised in Scarborough, Ontario; both my parents immigrated to Canada from Hong Kong in the early 80's in hopes of raising a family in a place that would offer better opportunities for their children. For me, one of these opportunities came in the form of hockey. At the rightful age of 5, I laced up my first pair of skates. Almost instantaneously, I became consumed in the Canadian hockey culture. This included waking up early for Saturday morning games, while my dad watched enthusiastically from the stands with, of course, a Tim Horton's coffee in his hands.

Besides hockey, I had a pretty typical Canadian childhood. My parents sent me to daycare, summer camps and even swimming lessons at the YMCA. While I occupied myself with these numerous activities, many other Asian-Canadian parents sent their kids to Chinese school, after-school math classes (Kumon) in addition to piano lessons. At one point, my mom encouraged me to take piano lessons, but I gave up on that idea right away since my stubby fingers just weren't meant to play. Overall, I enjoyed my childhood and didn't seem bothered by the fact that I was often the only non-white girl at my countless activities.

As I grew older, I began resenting the fact that I was Chinese. If someone would ask me my ethnicity, I would hesitantly say that I was Chinese and would always add in that my parents spoke to me in English. Perhaps, I did this to differentiate myself from the many other Chinese kids that I went to elementary school with at North Agincourt (nicknamed North "Asiancourt").

It wasn't until middle school that I first experienced Chinese stereotypes and racist jokes. Luckily, I was never made fun of directly. Yet I was annoyed by the fact that there were many people that humorously tried to imitate what they thought a Chinese accent sounded like. Most of the time, I was strong enough to ignore it all, and make myself believe that I really wasn't Chinese and therefore the remarks didn't apply to or affect me. This past October, our hockey coach informed us that we would be playing Team China as part of their Vancouver Olympic preparation. At the time, I didn't really draw much importance to it - I didn't even know China had a women's hockey team let alone know that they qualified for the Olympics!

The big day came, and I prepared for it just like I would any other game. I remember one of my teammates, Jocelyn; cracking a joke, "Tiff, you'll be playing right at home tonight," I just laughed it off. Before the game, there was a player-meet-and-greet, however not much meeting and greeting went on as both teams sat at their respective tables. I felt a sense of security and pride sitting with my team, knowing that I was part of a group of Canadian girls that played hockey.

The game turned out to be a huge event; the stands were packed with little girls from our hockey league and other members of the community that had come out to support us. During the opening ceremonies, as their roster was being announced with such names as Jeng Fengling and Qi Xueting, I remember laughing inside my head. I thought to myself that "Toong (silent g)", my last name that people constantly mispronounced didn't seem that bad compared to theirs. I took the opening face-off, I'm sure this was no coincidence; my coach probably sensed a need to give me that opportunity. Right off the start, Team China swiftly moved the puck into our end, and nearly scored that very first shift. They quickly took control of the game with their crisp passing, fast puck movement and great speed. By the end of the game, they had skated off with a well deserved 3-0 win. I was amazed and pleasantly surprised at how good they were. I was most impressed with their work ethic; these girls never gave up and won every little battle on the ice.

After the game, dinner was provided to us by the Mandarin restaurant and consisted of North American style Chinese food. I then felt more comfortable sitting with these accomplished athletes, knowing that the game was over, and I could now begin to relax. I even got the opportunity to talk to their captain, Wang Linuo, who informed me that she grew up in a small village north of Harbin, China. Given the circumstances, she had to leave her family to pursue her dream of playing hockey at the Olympic level. Only at this point did I realize that their hard work and dedication got them to where they are. I started thinking of similar values that my parents tried to instill in me while growing up, and really began to feel a deeper connection to the talented Chinese National Women's Team.

On the ride home, I remember discussing with my dad the possibility of me immigrating to China, obtaining my citizenship, and playing for their Women's Olympic Hockey Team. At that moment, I realized my mindset had changed - I was now prouder than ever to be Chinese. There have been numerous times in my life that others have been quick to judge, stereotype and generalize the Chinese culture, myself included. Much of this ignorance may stem from the fact that, as a 'jook-sing' I was so consumed with the western culture growing up, that I never bothered trying to understand the Chinese culture. But in just one game, I quickly learned that regardless of our upbringing, these women and I were not that different at all. In fact, we had much more in common than I had ever imagined. When I came off the ice that game, I felt a sense of accomplishment being able to play against a team of that caliber. But most importantly I felt a sense of pride, that they too, were also Chinese.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF FOUR VERY SPECIAL TEAMMATES

The Ontario Women's Hockey Association was saddened by the tragic loss of Kim Schulz, a very special friend and teammate. Kim played hockey for the Muskoka Bound Senior team and in the Rexdale Women's Hockey League. She started playing hockey after watching television as Team Canada beat Team USA to win gold at the 2002 Winter Olympics. She was 33 years old when she laced up her skates for the first time. According to her husband Rob, Kim loved every minute of her playing time and had a smile on her face whenever she headed to the rink. Kim is loved by her teammates. They will miss her and will play on in her memory. We thank Kim for enriching the lives of those who had the honour of knowing her. The thoughts and prayers of the Ontario Women's Hockey Association are with Rob, Adam and her family and friends.
